BRIGHT LIFE IN OLD LONDON.

Coming Racing Events Overshadow All Else.

London, June 8.- Special cable letter copyrighted, 1895, by the Associated Press.]-Gwing to the Whitsuntide holidays, those who could do so filted to the country or flew to the seaside and the town has been comparatively deserted by those who furnished food for gossip for the millions. But they are now flitting back to London, doubtless refreshed by their trips and are again plunging into the swirl of metropolitan life,

The rumor so persistenly circulated dissolution of parliament are gradually dying out, as the moving spirits of both the conservative and liberal parties have already been made up for the racing at Ascot Heath, which will begin on Thursday next, and last until Friday inclusive. There will be assembled Epitulu's noblest and richest families, and small fortunes will change hands duily in the wholesale.

10 1888.

Mrs. Frank Leslie, of New York, is in the city, and her veteran admirer, the Marquis de Deuville, is again in constant attendance on her. The marquis letter admire that he is once more engaged to be married to Mrs. Leslie.

Francis Wilson is in the city and with the prestige of the friendship of President Cleveland he may gain social favor here through the United States ambassador, to whom the popular action has a letter of introduction. families, and small fortunes will change hands daily in the wholesale betting which will take place almost within sight of Windsor Castle. All will be out in force and no doubt. Nazrulla Khan, the Afghan prince, who has been feted and petted until the very mention of his name to the sober minded citizen is almost nauseating, will be there in all his half favage glory. There is the usual row about tickets of admission to the royal enclosure. The conservatives assert liberals being in 15wer, as the master of the buckhounds, Lord Ribblesdale, who has charge of such matters, is obliged, it is claimed, to admit the wives and families of his radical sup-

Some confusion was caused here and elsewhere in regard to a coming breach of promise suit which is sure to attract considerable attention unless it is settled out of court. It was announced during the week in the newspapers that Miss Gore, formerly an opera bouffe actress, had brought an action for breach of promise of marriage against Lord Sudely, and it was asserted that she had retired from the stage upon becoming engaged to his loroship. It happened that Lord Sudely is an eminently respectable elderly man and married, with grown children and a weakness for speculation in stocks, which made him well known throughout the city. His friends were terribly shocked until it was explained that a mistake.

Honors for Bayard.

The United States ambassador, the Hon. Thomas F. Bayard, is to lay the foundation stone of the memorial church at Gainesboro in the outumn to John Robinson, one of the founders of religious independence in England. He was born in 1575 and died in 1825. A large number of leading non-conformistis are expected to attend. Mr. Bayard, in accepting the invitation to

Mr. M. F. Dwyer's Banquet in the race for the Manchester cup, won by 'he Prince of Wales' Florisell II, and they are not consoled in any degree by the knowledge that Mr. Richard Croker, who was looked upon to back the Dwyer horse, won on the prince's entry. The Sookmakers and others were astonished at the way Messrs. Croker, Dwyer and other Americans bet. They are adverse to taking bets from the Americans, who, they say, have no regard for the value of money.

Mr. Dwyer has engaged Mr. Miller, formerly purser of the American line steamship Paris, as his general manager here.

Mr. Croker is devoting much of his that to society. He gives numerous dinner parties and has a box at the opera. Mr. and Mrs. Croker left for Irsiand, where the former is to complete the purchase of an estate.

Mr. Charles L. Bonny, vice-president of the Chicago General Railway company has been collecting data here relating 5 omnibus and horsecar traffac, for the purpose of perfecting a scheme for a better service and reduced fares in Chicago. The principal omnibus company of London carried over 133,000,000 passengers in 1894, at an average fare of 2 1-5 cents, equal to six rides for 20 cents. Each vehicle here, while requiring a driver and a conductor, is limited to 26 passengers each, and they have to be provided with seats. In spite of this the com-pany paid a dividend last year of 8 per cent. Mr. Bonney says that when he returns to Chicago he will make a pressestion to the municipal authori-

The Popular Swindle.

USUAL ROW ABOUT TICKETS

The Truth publishes a letter, signed by Mr. Andrew Walker, of Los Angeles, Cal., to a Hampshire gentieman, which, The Truth says, discloses a new version of a popular swindle in which a Spanish political prisoner and buried treasure are the chief Ingredients. The recipient of the letter had a brother who died a few months ago. Soon after his death a letter addressed to the dead brother, dated from San Diego, Cal., was received, in which the man signing himself Andrew Walker pretended great intimacy with the deceased and referred to a great treasure of buried gold in Mexico in which both of them were interested. Walker intimated that he is disposed to allow the brother to Join the scheme.

Social Affairs.

It is again announced that the Duke of Arsyle is to marry a Miss McNeill in August.

Lord Leamington's wedding next week will be a very quiet affair, owing to a death in the family. Over 300 presents, however, have already been received, including a dog cart from the Hon, George Curzon and Mrs. Curzon. Lord Leamington, it will be remembered, acted as best man at the recent marriage of Mr. Curzon to Miss Mary Leiter, of Washington. He was private secretary to Lord Leamington while the latter was premier from 1885 to 1886.

De Young's Purchase.

De Young's Purchase.

A great sale of objects in art enamels, tapestries and bronzes occurred during the past week at the Hotel Drouot, in Paris. The articles came from the Splizer, Seilliere, Ducatel, Ayerst, and other famous collections, and realized nearly 200,000 francs. Among the purchasers was the well-known American, Mr. H. H. De Young, the director-general of the California hisdwinter exposition, who secured a considerable number for the memorial museum of the exposition. Among Mr. De Young's purchases are four large busts with pedestals of the Roman emperors. These busts came from the Seilliere collection; the heads are of white marise and the togas of variegated colored marbles. He also purchased a beautiful Brussels tapestry over fifteen feet long, some clocks and other art objects.

But there are people who do not look upon being present at Ascot as a great honor. Vanity Fair, for instance, considers it to be "no compliment to be one of such a mixed and ill-dressed crowd." Last year, it says, the lawn was swarming with people who had never seen royalty before and who stood staring straight at the royal box.

Come, what difference does it make whether you get home now or an hour from now?"

"It makes a great difference," exclaimed the man on the couch, with a look of intense anguish "You may not know it, sir," he went on, his voice rising with the excitement, as he ciutched the physician by the arm and winced visibly at the thought of what might be his fate, "but my wife is giving an afternoon tea and I thought I would rather wait until it is over with."

WHAT CAUSED THE CHANGE. "There seems to be a great change in Dorgan," said the man with the sandy beard. "There is," replied the man with the "He's lost a great deal of his egotism,

"All of it."
"He used to think he knew everything, and was constantly airing his knowl-"No subject was too deep for him to tackle."

"What brought about the change?"
"I did."
"You? How."
"He wanied comething to do, and I got him a change to answer queries on a daily paper."
"And he got some tough ones?"
"And he got some tough ones?"
"Well, rather. But that did not worry him-at first. He just answered them with his old self-confidence, and the first day seven of the readers wrote in and called him down on one mistake that he made."

day seven of the readers wrote in and cailed him down on one mistake that he made."

"Did that trouble him?"

"A little. But he got over it, and two days later was jumped on by nine readers for making a mistake in regard to the domestic affairs of Xantippe. Then some one asked him how far it was from Colon, Panama, to London, England, by way of Tokio, and when he had figured it out the man wrote in to say he meant the other way around the world. In less than four days he was a changed man. He wasn't sure of anything. He wouldn't undertake to say how old he was without locking up the record of his birth. He is very modest and retiring now."—Chicago Fost.
